About the Conference

Course Information and Objectives

We invite you to attend the 2010 Ogden Surgical-Medical Society's 65th annual conference entitled, "The Changing Face of American Medicine." Over the years, the Society has invited nationally-renowned speakers to come to Ogden for the annual meeting. This year is no exception. Bringing you a world class event, our faculty this year include local medical experts, as well as speakers from both Harvard and the Mayo schools of medicine.

Our meeting this year should provide an educational experience that will interest all medical practitioners, with a broad range of interesting topics. This year we are partnering with The National Kidney Foundation of Utah and Idaho to provide the latest on kidney disease for the practicing physician. Other highlights of the conference include a panel discussion titled "The Firing Line on Health Care Reform" and a presentation by Harvard Medical Professor and Author Dr. Thomas Graboyes who will discuss the issues of Alzheimer's and Parkinson's Diseases from a first hand, personal experience. As usual, we will have morning sessions of "What's New in My Specialty," and research presentations by the graduating residents from the McKay-Dee Family Medicine Program. Practical hands-on workshops will provide instruction in joint aspiration techniques. A refresher workshop for ACLS recertification is also scheduled.

All attendees are invited to attend the FREE evening social events, which include a family night at Ogden's Dinosaur Park, a Groucho Marx movie at the historic Peery's Egyptian Theater, and the annual President's reception honoring OSMS President Harry O. Senekjian, MD. The reception is planned for Thursday evening at the Union Station. All of the Union museums will be open during the reception, followed by dinner and dancing to Ogden's own Joe McQueen band.

Ogden Surgical-Medical Society Ends Policy

Attendees specifically and the local community in general will receive a collegial, professional experience focused on health care and community at the greatest possible value.
